DAY SET APART FOR LADIES.

Preparations are being made by housewives of Paducah and Mc-Cracken county for the exhibit of domestic products at the fair. Over $1000 has been set aside by the Paducah Fair association which will award prizes of $1 each to the winning exhibitors.

The attraction called "ladies' day" is the second of the fair and the association hopes that housewives will get busy at once and contest for the prizes. The women of Paducah and this county have a reputation for preparing good things to eat, and because of this fact the contests will be competitive to work overtime, and if the preparations are correct they will not find it an easy task to point out the winning exhibits.

There will be several departments.
The first will be Department E, consisting of jellies, preserves and canned goods. Under this head come apple, peach, pear, damson, cherry and plum preserves, apple

the pick department, including cu-sweet pick and peach pickles, and canned pickles, tomato pickles, onion pickles, etc. Next comes the bread, cake and jam department.

the best of white, light bread, corn meal bread, Graham bread, corn meal cake, white cake, caramel cake, fruit cake, angel food cake, sugar cookies, apple pies, pumpkin, lemon and cherry pies and molasses, sugar cookies and butter cakes.

Fancy Work.

Another item that will interest the ladies will be the fancy work department where all kinds of silk embroidery, linen and cotton embroidery, drawn work, lace work, knitting and crocheting, and quilts will be displayed. The ladies will begin work at once to compete for the premiums offered. The premiums will go to the showing displays as follows: Silk embroidery, lace work, center piece, crocheting comes mittens or gloves, lace borders, shawl, knitted lace not less than two yards, crocheted purse and shawl, and center piece. Premiums will also go to the best specimens of hemstitching, fancy stock, lace apron, hand made belt, house apron and laundry bag.

The last department will be for quilts as follows: Silk patch-work quilt, silk crazy quilt, silk comfort, woolen patch-work quilt, woolen crazy quilt, woolen coverlet, calico patch-work quilt and home made counterpane.

Montreal, July 22.—A proposition to arbitrate came to the Grand Trunk railway chairman of the strike-ing trainmen and conductors today from W. I. MacKenzie King, minister of labor, who has been the instiga-cept the award to be binding, the government would defray the incicompany was mailed. It was not made public.

Liberal Leader Calls Members of Royal Family "Parasites" When He Opposes Increases in Civil Lists

Lively Debate on Subject in House of Commons—Barcelona Riots Serious—Crippen's Hiding Place.

London, July 22.—An attack was made on the royal family in the house of commons today by George Harnes, Liberal leader, speaking against the passage of the civil list.
Harnes said he would oppose granting an increased civil list unless the king and prince of Wales would surrender to the treasury revenues received from their immense landed properties.

"The royal income is excessive, and the expenses of the royal household honeycombed with abuses," he said. "It conceals a nest of parasites fattening on the nation under the shadow of the throne."

The king and his family asked $3, 160,000. After debates it was granted. Laborite delegates dubbed the family "immoral."

Crippen in Andorra.

London, July 22.—Advisers received at Scotland Yard strengthen the belief that Dr. Crippen is hiding in the little republic of Andorra, practically immune from extradition.
Authorities say Crippen was last seen at Vernet Les Bains, a French watering place. Identifications are believed to be positive. Andorra is 175 miles in extent, on the southern slope of France, and Spain. It is an independent republic. The shep-

1,750 lives were lost last summer in rious. It is conceded there was serious trouble. Martial law was declared throughout Spain, but the government has denied that the outbreak was of a dangerous character.

La Cierva said that in addition 1, 725 persons were tried for rioting and 1,000 were driven from the country, mostly to France.

will be made more interesting by the attendance of President Taft, Col.
Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pin-chot, besides many other men of note.

the county on the Hicksville road, abandonment as a reason why the divorce should be granted. Mrs.

Kaler and Samuel and James Hoskins, children by the first marriage of Hoskins, are made defendants also. She alleges that her husband disposed of about 800 acres of land pointed by McGraw to keep Raymond sober.

1901, of five children of a farmer named Briere in the vicinity of Charfound guilty of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment. He died in prison.

The trial of Briere attracted the attention of the whole of France.

aged 7, were found in bed one morning stabbed and beaten to death.

Forest Fires in Northwest Over

FLAMES—ONE TOWN IS CAUGHT.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE THE ICEMAN?

Charged with defrauding his customers, Ed Vasseur, driver of an ice wagon, waived examination yesterday in his examining trial in county court before County Judge Alben W.
Barkley. Vasseur was held over to the grand jury under a bond of $100, which he executed. The warrant was sworn out by Frank Wagner for whom Vasseur drove an ice wagon until recently. It is alleged that Vasseur failed to account for all of the ice he took on his wagon.

INSURANCE WILL NOT BE PAID BY ACCIDENT CO.'S

Until Investigation Into the Death of I. G. Rawn is Made by Jury.

Thousands of Dollars in Policies Involved.

FAMILY IS FIRM IN ITS OPINION.

Chicago, July 22.—Representatives of insurance companies, which held I. G. Rawn's policies for $145,- 000, today demanded a new jury investigation. They say C. F. Hatley, foreman of the coroner's jury, was not qualified, because of friendship to the family. Hatley and the Rawn family still insist that Rawn was murdered.

Life companies holding policies for $40,000 will pay the amount regardless, but the accident companies insist on a thorough investigation.
Coroner Hoffman says he received a confidential letter that a negro murdered Rawn. The motive was not robbery. The coroner refuses to divulge the writer's name or the name of the suspect.

The family bases the belief of suicide now on finding a small piece of lead in the fireplace of their home.
This is believed to be the bullet fired from Rawn's revolver. They will investigate this and also have a chemical analysis made of stains on the sidewalk to determine if they are blood.

Severe Treatment for Wife.

Chicago, July 22.—Because of a family quarrel in which he insisted that his wife was at fault, J. Anderson, of Waukegan, today compelled her to do penance by crawling on her knees several blocks to church and confessing that he had married the domestic tranquility.

Rich Paper Man Dies.

Arthur Crane, millionaire paper manufacturer, is dead, aged 62.

News was received today of the death at Newbern, Tenn., of the baby born to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thomas last week. The burial will be tomorrow at Newbern.

Fifteen natives were killed and seventy natives and thirteen white miners injured, as the result of a gelatine explosion at Sluiter East deep mine.

Young Bandits at Goleonda.

its, 14 year old bandits, were taken at Goleonda, Ill., at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Thomas E.
Phelps, who arrived yesterday after-the juvenile court and probably sentenced to the state reform school at Joliet, Ill.

forty-seventh biennial convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians favoring the inclusion of a compulsory course in Irish history in the curriculum of the parochial schools and colleges of the Roman Catholic church.

looking for the thief who operated near the city last night. Mr. Tom Creek, a farmer living three miles from Paducah on the Heaton road his fine saddle horse was taken from the barn last night. There is no clue.

FOREST FIRES IN NORTHWEST OVER

RAINS HAVE EXTINGUISHED THE
FLAMES—ONE TOWN IS CAUGHT.

Seattle, July 22.—It is believed forest fires in the northeastern Washington, and the panhandle of Idaho have been effectively checked by the steady rains, beginning last night and continuing today. Flames caught Hoquiam, Wash., destroying a hotel.
One person was burned to death and two firemen are missing. Fires in British Columbia are unabated.

Louis Futrell is Found Guilty of Killing Horace Osburn and Two Years is Penalty---Father Free

Second Trial of Tennessee
Youth Results in Shaving Eight Years Off His Sentence.

Two years in the penitentiary for Louis Futrell and an acquittal for J.
S. Futrell, charged with the murder of Horace Osburn, a street car moti-orman, was the verdict returned this afternoon at 1:55 o'clock by a jury in the circuit court. The jury was out over 26 hours before a verdict was reached. On his first trial Louis Futrell was given 10 years in the penitentiary. Attorneys for Futrell will make a motion for a new trial tomorrow.

From the first ballot the jurors acquitted J. S. Futrell, of Model, Tenn., the father of Louis Futrell; but the jury disagreed as to the length of punishment for the son. On the first ballot seven jurors voted to give Louis Futrell two years, two voted for acquittal for him also, and three voted to give him a longer term.
The jurors wrangled on this point until this afternoon, when the twelve men agreed on two years.

Only a few people were in the court house when the verdict was returned, as it was the general opinion that the jury was hopelessly hung.
J. S. Futrell wept at the verdict against his son. Louis Futrell also cried, as he was taken to jail, where he will remain until the motion for a new trial is acted upon.

Louis Futrell shot and killed Horace Osburn in the spring of 1909, in a boarding house on Kentucky avenue near Third street.

Under the new law, juries do not fix the penalty in felony cases, that being left to the discretion of the judge within the law, after the jury has found the defendant guilty.
However, it is not known whether it affects crimes committed before the law went into effect or not. If possible, the attorneys for the defense, who will ask for a new trial, will take advantage of the verdict.

Miss Acker Gets Scholarship.

Prof. L. W. Fleezer, county school superintendent, announced today that Miss Annabel Acker passed the examination for a scholarship to the State university at Lexington. Miss Acker was the only applicant to take the examination this year, and passed it with a high average. She will leave in September for Lexington and will enter the classical school. For two years she has been a teacher in the city public schools, and a popular young lady.

LAUDANUM POISONING PROVES ALMOST FATAL

Suffering from the effects of laudum poisoning, Will Dillard, a resident of the husbands road, was found yesterday at his home about three miles from the city. When discovered he was unconscious, but he rallied, and today was feeling easier. Dr. W. H. Parsons was called and administered enemas.

TREASON LURKS IN PARTYISM

BEN H. LINDSAY CALLS ON ALL PEOPLE TO SUPPORT THE INSURGENTS.

Madison, Wis., July 22.—In an article today in La Follette's Weekly Judge Iden H. Lindsay, of the famous Denver juvenile court, appeals to Democrats and Republicans to support the "Insurgents." He says the struggle is between "not parties, but people and privilege. Privilege is bi-partisan and knows no parties.
The old parties don't exist."

"We are on the eve of the fiercest struggle since the Civil war for human rights against property rights. It is part of the conspiracy of special interest to use the slogan of the party against the man who rings true. To follow such a trail is treason," he says.

GREAT HEROISM DISPLAYED WHEN BIG GUN BURSTS

Officers and Enlisted Men at Fortress Monroe Act
With Coolness.

Detective Safety Device
Causes Accident

ELEVEN VICTIMS NUMBERED

Norfolk, Va., July 22.—Colonel Townsend informed relatives that 11 men were killed by the explosion of a gun yesterday and will await their instructions as to the disposition of the bodies. Townsend reported to the department today:
"The accident was due to the premature discharge. The breech block was blown to the rear, the discharge occurring before the rotation of the block had begun. Captain James Prentice was in command. Lieutenant Hawes was in charge of the emplacement. Lieutenant VanDusen was timekeeper. Sergeant Brinkley and Corporal Humphreys and other enlisted men who were shocked and injured, rendered aid to the injured.
Van Dusen's leg was broken. He directed and flares extinguished with his bare hands a second powder charge which was about to explode.
It is probable that special letters commending their bravery will be sent. The catastrophe is ascribed by ordnance experts as a faulty safety device.

The fortress is wrapped in gloom, although the heroism of the men relieved last night in a measure the oppression following the accident.
All guns will be investigated as to the condition of the safety device to prevent the discharge of a gun before it is raised above the parapet.
The accident was attributed to this as it was the first load in the gun.
This could not have been caused by a burning rag inside.

Mayfield Lodge Women.

The Manchester Grove No. 29 of the Woodman's circle entertained a delegation of the Isman Grove No.
28, of Mayfield, today with a most delicious banquet at the headquarters of the Paducah grove, in the Three Links building. This morning the Manchester Grove gave a boat ride on the G. W. Robertson for their sister chapter, and a most enjoyable time was spent. The delegates from Mayfield were Mesdames Elsie Brown Berlie Copeland, Henry Willett, Cassedy Timmons and John Willett.

TWO SCHOLARSHIPS IN ENGINEERING AT STATE

County Judge Alben W. Barkley has the authority to grant two scholarships with special privileges to the school of civil engineering of the state university to two young men of the county. He received a letter this morning, stating that two appointments could be made. The purpose of the appointments is to secure young men who will be competent to grade county roads, and to be of service in the campaign for better roads. Any young men interested in obtaining the scholarships may secure further information by seeing County Judge Barkley. The age limit is between 18 and 23 years.

RUBBER THIEVES

STEAL $200 WORTH OF RUBBER
TIRING FROM SHOPS.

John Zeller and J. L. Putnam Are Losers—Clew to Perpetrators.

Nearly $200 worth of rubber tiring was stolen last night when two blacksmith's shops in Paducah were broken into. The police department is working on a clew. The heaviest loss was sustained by John Zeller, at 123 North Second street, where two reels of buggy tires were stolen.
The second place visited by the thieves was the blacksmith shop of J. L. Putnam, at 217 Washington street. About 100 feet of tiring, valued at about $45, was taken.

At both places the robbers effected entrance through the back doors, by prying them open with crow bars. On leaving with their booty they left the doors standing open.
The discoveries were made about 7 o'clock this morning and the police department succeeded in getting a clew that may trace the thieves.
The robberies were evidently committed by the same persons.

vember 1, as the result of an agreement reached today between Chair-

Took One; Lost One.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 22.—Paducah lost the first game by the overwhelming score of 12 to 3, but won the second game by a score of 5 to 3 yesterday afternoon in two of the closing games of the season. A large crowd was present as the Clarksville fans anticipated that the locals might take both games and creep up on Vincennes in the final dash for the pennant. After completely outplaying Paducah in the first game, the Indians came right back in the second and won out.
In the first game Clarksville's batters fattened their batting averages at the expense of Woodring, who lost his first game since joining Paducah. He was batted for a total of 15 hits, and his curve and shoots were about as effective against the local batsmen as snowballs in July.

Second Game.

Both pitchers who started the second game were knocked out of the box but won out in the final inning. "Rube" Floyd started the game for the Indians, but Manager Angermeyer soon found occasion to remove him, and "Dummy" Payne was sent to the box, and the local batsmen were completely puzzled.
Lambert started to twirl the second game but the Indians got after him, and Priest was placed in the box.
All went well until the seventh inning with the score tied 2 to 2.
Then in the final round something happened. Two Indians got on base, and Lockhart walked up to the pan and knocked out a home run, declaring a dividend of three runs.

Some Bunting at Hoptown.

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 22.—Vincennes took the first game of the series yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 1 and assisted in establishing his right to the pennant. Beasley proved the master of the Hopkinsville batters while McMonigle was rapped for ten hits.

Baseball Dope.

Ewing Harris, who was a member of the twirling staff of the Indians until last week when he was released because of his failure to keep in condition has signed with Clarksville. Harris is slated to pitch his first game with Clarksville against Paducah this afternoon. Harris was with Clarksville in the days of the old Kitty, and is still a good twirler.
Nathan L. Dier, of Louisville, has been appointed the new umpire in the Kitty as with six clubs another umpire is necessary. Dier is well known in Louisville as a baseball writer, and has a thorough knowledge of baseball. He resigned a position as umpire in the Bluegrass league in order to accept a place in the new Kitty.

Woodring is a bad guesser as the report of the game yesterday with Clarksville shows. The Vincennes Capital says:

"I'll defeat Clarksville when I pitch against them," said Guy Woodring of the Paducah team last night and we are sure to get no worse than an even break. The Paducah team delights in winning from Clarksville almost as much as defeating Vincennes. Hopkinsville has it in for Clarksville and the Hoptown fans are almost wild with enthusiasm over the result of the present series with Turtles.

Hooks Vs. LaCenter.

The second game of a series between the B. B. Hooks and the crack LaCenter team will be played next Sunday afternoon at LaCenter.
Manager Ziba Williams has arranged the game and quite a delegation of fans will accompany the Hooks to the battlefield. Two weeks ago the Hooks captured the first game of the series by a score of 2 to 1. Both teams will use the same batteries.
For LaCenter Eberly and Shaw are expected to work while Council will twirl for the Hooks. The Hooks will lineup: Wagner or Gallagher, C.
McCune, p.; Henneberger, 1b; Mercer, 2b; Cox, 3b; Monroe, ss; Han-ners, 1f; Williams, cf; and Harper,

Pittsburgh, July 22.—Pittsburgh took both games of a double-header easily from Brooklyn, who earlier in the season helped to give the champions their setback. Proper hitting at the proper time was the story of both contests. Leach was a star in

Worth of High Grade Shoes

of the

COCHRAN SHOE CO.

325 Broadway, Paducah, Ky.

AT PUBLIC SALE

Beginning Saturday, July 23, at 9 a. m., and to be sold in Twelve Days' Time. Like a stroke of Lightning from a clear sky comes the startling announcement that the Cochran Shoe Company will place their entire stock of Shoes, consisting of the best grade makes, such as Hanans, Stetson, John Foster, E. P. Reed, John Kelley, Charles K. Fox, Etc., for Men, Women and Children at Public Sale.

Beginning Saturday, July 23, and Ending Saturday, Aug. 6

On account of being hemmed in by the erection of the ten story Bank building on the corner of Fourth and Broadway since March 1st and the backward season brought about by the disastrous weather conditions, we are determined to cut our Stock in two. It will be a gigantic undertaking, but the prices we will put forth will make this the largest sale of the kind ever inaugurated in this part of the country. We have concluded to give the people the first opportunity to buy High Grade Shoes and Oxfords at far less than actual cost of the raw material.

During all our period of honorable merchandising in Paducah we have gained a reputation for honesty and fair dealing second to none in the annals of Paducah. But the end has come; our entire stock is entirely too large at this time of the year and we have decided to reduce our stock just half of what it is and the prices we intend putting on this merchandise will make them move like wild-fire and make us the past grand master of the shoe business in Paducah forever.

STORE CLOSED THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, JULY 21 AND 22, REARRANGING AND REMARKING THE STOCK, OPENING SATURDAY, JULY 23.

Notwithstanding our reputation as bargain givers, we now give an extra whirl to the wheel of trade by offering such astonishing values that competition is not even attempted. The critical moment has arrived. That is the situation now, the exciting circumstances forces us to take this unprecedented step. It is not necessary for us to go into details relative to the high class stock we carry, for every man, woman and child is well aware of the fact, anything bought from the Cochran Shoe Co. was the best that money could buy. Please do not look at this as an ordinary occasion. This is an extraordinary occasion and it may never occur again.

A Country of Charms.

Cornwall, which is famous for the names of its local saints, is a county of "charms." The passing of children through holes in the earth, rocks, or trees, once an established rite, is still practiced in various parts of Cornwall, wrote Thomas Q. Couch about fifty years ago. "With us, bells are cured by creeping on the hands and knees beneath a thimble which has grown into the soil at both ends. Children affected with hernia are still passed through a slit in an ash sapling before sunrise, fasting; after which the slit portions are bound up, and as they unite so the hernia is cured. The ash is indeed a tree of many virtues; venomous reptiles are never known to rest under its shadows, and a single blow from an ash stick is instant death to an adder; struck by a bough from any other tree the reptile is said to retain marks of life until the sun goes down."—London Chronicle.

Judge Cross' Boy Was Lost.

The three-year-old son of Police Judge and Mrs. D. A. Cross, 707 South Fourth street, disappeared from home yesterday afternoon about 6 o'clock. It was feared that he might be injured while wandering around, and the police department was notified to be on the lookout for the youngster. However, about 7 o'clock an old colored woman that recognized the boy found him wandering around near Sixth and Norton streets. She carried the boy to his home and there was general rejoicing.

It is plucky for the association to go ahead increasing the premiums and purses for the fall fair after rain ruined the July races. None but the brave deserve the fair.

AFTER GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Active efforts are already being made by certain people and interests to name the nominees for the next legislature of Kentucky. Members of the general assembly will not be elected until a year from next November, but there are evidences in many parts of the state of the activity of those who want a legislature that they can "control" as they did the last one.

Men are being picked out and induced to run, not for their merit or fitness to serve the people, but for their pliability in the hands of the professional lobbyists who hang around Frankfort and their willingness to trade their votes upon any questions, in exchange for some job in a public institution or other valuable consideration.

Probably in no state in the union was the lobby ever more arrogant, bold and powerful than it was in the last two sessions of the Kentucky general assembly. With a large and controlling number of members of those two sessions the term "lobbyism" instead of being an opprobrious epithet seemed to be a title of honor and a passport to their highest and most obnoxious consideration. No men enjoyed the privilege and honors upon the floor of the two houses more than did the known representatives of interests seeking legislative favors.

A sturdy constituent from out in the state, should he have attempted to enter, would have found the doors tightly closed in his face, but a lobbyist, appearing at the entrance, would have found those same doors opened to him as if by the magic word "Same," and a cordial reception awaiting him on the inside.

The early birds are now, even this far in advance, busily at work to catch the worms for the next legislature, and it is their ambition to get together a body in 1912 just as much to their taste and liking as were the last two.

What is the remedy? What steps should be taken to circumvent their evil machinations? The people in every legislative and senatorial district should take hold of the matter for themselves and see that only men of known integrity and ability should be chosen as nominees. They should not vote for men with whom they would not trust their own money or values and in whose word they can not have implicit confidence.

A higher estimate should be placed upon the legislative office, and good men, even at a sacrifice to their personal interests, should be induced to accept nominations. The idea that "everybody's business is nobody's business" should be discarded and good citizens in every district should actively organize to see that they are worthily and honorably represented in the general assembly of their state.—Kentucky State Journal.

Kentucky cities in equipment for the protection of human life. The spirit of cooperation and unselfish interest in the welfare of each other, manifested in the work of organization, is as valuable as the plant itself. It is God-given especially to the poor and afflicted of the city, and is another proof that we best help ourselves in helping others.

THE FAIR AND THE FARMERS.

The farmers of McCracken county must take a hand to make the fall fair a success. They must not stand back and await the offer of cash prizes that will be remunerative. If the premiums pay some portion of the expense of the exhibit, the farmer is repaid many times; but if no premium more than a colored ribbon were given, it is his fair and he is the one who will profit by it. The fair offers the farmers the opportunity for a local exposition, where they may study the results of their own efforts; compare methods and products; learn what the section really is producing, and gain whatever advantage there is in the knowledge thus afforded. Co-operation among agriculturists is a modern necessity, and the more general that co-operation, the better and quicker the results. Farmers do not compete with one another, excepting in the excellence of farm management and production, and that competition is altogether stimulating and in no sense detrimental. The purpose of the fall fair is to raise the standard of production in the county, and the benefits from it will be far reaching.—If the farmers take hold of the idea, and put into it a little of their own effort and good will and presence.

One on the Bar.
A Middlesboro store was broken into and robbed last week. There is nothing at all singular about the fact that this happened while the Lawyer's Association was meeting there. Nothing of the kind occurred when The Kentucky Press association was in that thriving city. All that the editors stole was the profits of a few of Middlesboro's pretty girls.—Danville Messenger.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Ready to Fight Japs.
Camp Gregg, Panglosslaw, L. I.

"Dear Old Paducah."

Away over here in far-off Philippines are many of Kentucky's noble sons, and among their thoughts of home and sweethearts are inklings of war, and that with the slant-eyed Japs.

As I am a member of the field artillery branch of the service, I want to know that the "artillery" (mountain) is ready. Thanks to Old Kentucky and Missouri for their nukes, the greatest annual in the world for mountain artillery.

The mountain gun is made so as to be taken apart into four pieces, carried on the backs of mules. It discharges a projectile of 18 lbs. for a distance of 4,000 yards and with the aid of the good old mule, can be taken up any mountain trail. And so we have just completed our annual target practice I know its value in time of war, for this year's practice has been far in advance over the past. There is no more going out on the range at a known distance, and firing at a target you know the size and every detail of. With the present equipment and knowledge of maneuvers, the battery is halted some few thousand yards in the rear, while the scouts find the target being given the general direction only.

When found the battery moves forward cautiously and under cover of hill or woods, until within range the guns are unlimbered from the mules and run by hand until the target can just be seen over the crest then the range is determined by firing a certain number of rounds. Then the fire for effect, is begun, and believe me, it is war. The battery is practiced in firing at clouds of smoke which represent the enemy, a fuse being attached to several small piles of black powder with intervals to represent another battery firing. Also at moving targets drawn on sled-runners. The most exciting is the target that appears along the road side, while the battery is in close of wooded country. Just like an ambush. There's where you take your hat off to the mule, for he is the quickest thing you ever saw from under that gun, and it hardly hits the ground before its assembled and fired. People who have never seen a mountain battery can hardly realize. In the recent and only maneuvers held in the Philippines, the mountain battery was assigned to the brown forces representing the Japs, and it was the mule soldiers who decided the fight, all because they could take the same size gun, places where a light battery couldn't go. So the mule is the best mountain climbing animal Uncle Sam can get. The war department has moved us from the most southern post in the island to Jolo, (where there is the only place for a possible outbreak as far as the Philippines are concerned for the rest are very well pleased with American government), to the most northern, our present station, and as China seems to be getting mad, the mules and new way get a chance to show the world their great combination. I will be back to see my friends in Paducah next spring, but I want to say that the "mountain artillery is ready." As ever,

Yours truly,
GEORGE BROWNELL, BARRICKMAN.

JONES WINS FIGHT FOR JONESBORO

ILLINOIS CENTRAL, FINALLY RE-CHRISTENED.

Amusing Controversy Over Name of Station on the Evansville Division.

PERSONALS FROM RAILROADS

One small station on the Evansville district of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central railroad has had its name changed, closing a long battle. The station is 55 miles from Princeton has been known as Highland for many years, despite the fact that citizens have endeavored to have the name changed to Jonesboro. This change of name has just been granted by Vice President W. L. Park. The fact that so many small stations have names derived from the common name Jones, has caused the railroad officials to hesitate in changing the name of Highland.

Much amusement has been afforded passengers who were acquainted with the efforts to have the name of the station changed. After it was christened Highland the principal property owner whose name is Jones, erected a large signboard on the opposite side of the track with the following inscription: "This is not Highland but Jonesboro." The battle has waged for several years until the railroad officials thought surrender and the name of the station was changed.

The special excursion train run from Jackson, Tenn., to Evansville arrived in Paducah last night at 10 o'clock on the return trip. There were 12 coaches in the train. About 100 people from Paducah took advantage of the low rate to Evansville.

The special excursion train will leave St. Louis Saturday night and will arrive in Paducah about 7 o'clock Sunday morning via Cairo. Returning the special train will leave Paducah at 5:30 o'clock.

Tonight the Plain City lodge of machinists will meet at the Central Labor Union hall, and a full attendance of all the members is desired. The delegates, Harry Kelley and Jeff Bell, who have returned from Chicago after attending the conference in regard to the new wage scale, will make their report. The wage scale has not been signed by the union, but no trouble is anticipated although it may be at least a month before the new scale is signed. The machinists were offered the same increase that the blacksmiths accepted.

DENY WOOD PULP SHORTAGE.
U. S. Consul at Quebec Attacks Recent Hike in Prices.

Washington, July 22.—Denial that there was a shortage of pulp wood in Quebec such as to justify an increase in the price of paper was made today by United States Consul Willich at Quebec in an official report to the department of state. The following summary of the report was made by officials of the department.

"The consul states that there is not likely to be a shortage in the future supply of the market in the United States because of the restrictions placed by the provincial authorities upon the exportation of pulp wood cut on crown lands. He states that despite the prohibition of exportations of pulp wood from crown lands subsequent to May 1 last, the supply on hand and which may be secured from private lands in the future would be entirely adequate to the demand, and there need be no apprehension of a shortage."

The Cure.
Once there was a man who made life miserable for all he met by eternally harping about his aches and pains, says Judge.

He would discourse on the subject of his dyspepsia, and he would almost interrupt a religious service to tell of his rheumatic symptoms.

If he had a stitch in his side he had to pester his friends with it, and a headache helped him make everybody unhappy.

At last a bright young woman, to whom the man applied for sympathy cured him of all his ailments.

When he was in the midst of a catalogue of his sufferings she said sweetly:

"Yes, it is strange how many of these things assail a man as he begins to grow old."

That man never had a symptom after that.

Life in Colonial Virginia. In no part of the world were social distinctions more rigidly defined than in colonial Virginia. The founders of that colony stepped from the brilliant court of Elizabeth into the forests of Virginia. The lord-proprietor transported to his estate a little army of gentlemen and indentured servants, and afterward came the negro slave. Each formed a class apart from the others, and almost at once there was created a quasi-system of aristocracy. The proprietor obligated himself to protect his tenants from

TUMOR OF YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Holly Springs, Miss. — "Words are inadequate for me to express what your wonderful medicine have done for me. The doctors said I had a tumor, and I had an operation, but was soon as bad as before. I wrote you for advice, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you told me to do. I am glad to say that now I look and feel so well that my friends keep asking me what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend your Vegetable Compound." — Miss WILLIE EDWARDS, Holly Springs, Miss.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's head enemy — tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give everyone confidence.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

The Indians; they in turn agreed to follow him to battle—precisely the system inaugurated by William the Conqueror for the military defense of his realm. His environment naturally bred certain habits of command, fostered a capacity for directing the efforts of others, and imposed a sense of responsibility upon the planter for the lives that were in his keeping. Above all else, the planter jealously guarded his rights as an English freeman. When liberty languished in England, the Virginian stoutly resisted every aggression of royal tyrants. One husband, one wife, one home, one king, one God—this was the planter's creed. But he reserved the right to renounce a monarch who violated the ancient compact between king and people. No other people, numerically as unimportant as that group of Virginia settlers, has given to humanity so many statesmen, soldiers, orators, patriots and philosophers.—Everybody's Magazine.

JAPAN PREPARES FOR EARTHQUAKE

IMPORTANT RESULTS ACHIEVED BY COMMITTEE.

Prof. Jagger Tells What Has Been Accomplished by Years of Investigation.

MAY NOW FORETELL SHOCKS

The empire of Japan has taken the lead in earthquake investigation and to this end has employed the most modern methods and apparatus. In June, 1892, a body entitled the Shinsai Yobo Choshaikai (literally a "committee for investigating the prevention of earthquake disasters") was organized. The annual appropriation has been between $12,000 and $14,000. In 1904, summarizing twelve years of work, Kikuchi, now president of the University of Kyoto, writes: "The object of the committee is twofold: in the first place to investigate whether there are any means of predicting earthquakes; and in the second place to investigate what can be done to reduce the disastrous effects of earthquake shocks to a minimum, by the choice of proper structures, materials, position etc."

The present earthquake committee and its forerunner, the Seisano-gakkaikai, have together been publishing results for twenty-two years, issuing in that time about fifty volumes in English and a greater number in Japanese. The memoirs are carefully edited and well illustrated. The published product is enormous as compared with the appropriation. Not one penny of remuneration has been paid to an author, the money all going for apparatus, expenses and printing. The workers are Japanese professors, trained in England and Germany.

The practical value of the Japanese work is shown in many diagrams and charts on the walls of the instrument rooms. A map and calendar show that for eastern Japan most of the earthquakes occur in summer, while in western Japan the quaking season is winter. Another map shows some districts in Japan, and others dangerous, with a record of a dozen disasters in the last thousand years. Diagrams show that earthquake frequency varies with the barometer and with the intensity of the moon's attraction. Perret, the American observer, of Naples has recently used the moon's phases profitably as a guide to probable earthquake dates. This is an important line of investigation leading toward prediction. Tables and curves show the numerous after-shocks of a great earthquake, and the rate at which they diminish month by month. A chart of the coast line of Japan shows tidal waves since the thirteenth century, numerous on the east coast, absent on the west. This becomes an invaluable datum for engineers who have to construct expensive public works and for the guidance of the earthquake committee in the protection of a crowded populace. A stimulating recent study by Omori indicates that ten great earthquakes recorded instrumentally all gave evidence of small shocks preceding the disaster by several hours, and in some cases by several days. Some of the records suggest rhythmic intervals, and a number of earthquakes in different parts of the globe show similar intervals in their foreshocks. This all hints at the possibility of prediction.

All lands are earthquake lands. Those which have many and small shocks are better off than those which have few and great ones. The Carnegie Institution of Washington and some business men (and women) of Boston, Springfield and Honolulu have recently appropriated money for the systematic study of the living earth. This is a beginning, but it is not enough. The next disaster of St. Pierre or Messina is now preparing. The earth today is writing its message, how and where we do not know, but surely somewhere and somehow, appointing the time, place and vigor of its action, whereby a great sea wave will roll shoreward, a great volcano burst, or a great clank of earth crumble. Are we learning to read the message? Tenebris, Venustus, Etna and the volcanoes of the Caribbees will abate break forth and devastate the land; Calabria, Central America and California will have strong earthquakes; and so will the Atlantic coast of the United States. The next great Atlantic earthquake will not necessarily be at Charleston.—Century.

Unightly Skin Affections Which Cause Embarrassment Are Quickly Cured by Poslam.

"To tell the truth, I was ashamed to go out," says Mr. John Rogers, of Atlanta, Ga. "My trouble was eczema on each side of my nose, and caused lots of trouble and expense. I used every preparation I could get hold of but they all seemed to make it worse until I tried poslam. I can truly say every trace of it has disappeared and does not seem to return. Poslam is a wonderful remedy. I keep some at hand all the time."

The success of poslam is not at all surprising when it is considered that even a small quantity stops itching immediately and proceeds to heal at once. The very worst cases of eczema, as well as acne, herpes, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, cracked humors, scaly scalp and every form of itchy skin to it readily. It diminishes such as pimples, red noses, itchy or inflamed skin disappear, the complexion being cleared overnight.

A special 50 cent package of poslam is prepared for minor uses and this, as well as the regular $2 jar is on sale by all druggists, particularly Gillbert's drug store and R. W. Walker & Co.

A sample of poslam, which will afford a convincing test, will be sent by mail free of charge, to anyone who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

EVENING SUN'S DAILY MARKET

LOCAL PRODUCE.

(Corrected daily by Woolfolk, Bowers & Company.)

Hens (pound) 9 cents
Spring chickens (pound) 12 cents
Butter (packing stock) 15 cents
Eggs (dozen) 10 cents

Livestock.

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—There was only a moderate supply of cattle on the market; receipts totaled 114 head, and for the four days this week 2,341. The attendance of buyers was light, and only the nice heavy weight butcher cattle and good grade stockers and feeders were sought after, prices being steady with Monday on this class. There was very little demand for the plain and medium steers, weighing 900 to 1,000 pounds and if any change, prices were shade lower on that class. Grass, half-fat cows and heifers were also very dull and draggy. Canners and cutters dull. Choice bulls about steady. Not many choice heavy cattle here, but owing to the liberal receipts and lower prices in the western markets, the feeling on this class was weak. Milch cows slow sale.

Calves.

Receipts of calves were 111 head; for the week thus far 610. The market ruled slow to a shade lower; bulk of the best calves selling 7 1/2 to 8; medium 6c to 7 1/2c; common 5 to 6c.

Hogs.

The receipts of hogs were 991 head; for the four days this week 2,413. The market opened slow and prices 5c to 10c lower. Selected heavy hogs, 200 pounds and up $8.40; mediums, 165 to 200 pounds $8.30; light shippers and heavy pigs, 90 to 165 pounds, $8; light pigs under 90 pounds, $8; roughs $7.80 down. Closed about steady, with most everything sold.

Sheep and Lambs.

The receipts of sheep and lambs were 7,202 head; for the week 22,270 head. The market opened active and 25c higher on lambs, while sheep were steady. The quality of lambs was good, the market made early and a good clearance was made. Bulk of the best lambs 7c; seconds 5 1/2 to 6 1/2 culls 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 c; fat sheep 3 1/2 c down; bucks 3 1/2 c down.

St. Louis.—Cattle.—Receipts 6,500 market steady to lower; native beef steers $5.50 to $8.25; calves in carload lots $5.25 to $9. Hogs.—Receipts 5,000 market strong; pigs and lights $8 to $10; packers $8 to $8.50; butchers and best heavy $8.40 to $8.65. Sheep.—Receipts 3,000; market strong; native muttons $3.50 to $4.25; lambs $3.25 to $6.75.

Tobacco Market.

Louisville, Ky., July 22.—The local tobacco market was very strong on all grades. The offerings follow: Burley, 29; dark, 115; total, 151; original inspection, 118; reviews, 36; rejections Wednesday, 52. Kentucky houses old 10 dark, 5.75 to $8.10. Ninth street house sold 15 burley $13.75 to $18; 52 dark $5.75 to $12.50, with 5 rejections. People's house sold 21 burley at $12.25 to $18.75. Two rejections. NEW HARRIMAN ARRIVES IN EAST

ORLANDO TO BE AN AMUSEMENT "MAGNATE."

Starts High-Toned Resort at Brighton Beach and Gold Flows Into Coifers.

HIS ENTERPRISE PROSPERS

New York, July 17.—There is a new Harriman who is making a name for himself as a business king down at Brighton Beach. He is Orlando, the eldest brother of the late E. H. Harriman. So great was the fame of the late ruler of American transportation in his day that it fitly over-shadowed and almost entirely obscured the personality of this brother.

Orlando Harriman has kept in the background all his life. He has shunned notoriety and has preferred to jog along in a quiet way as a trader in real estate. In the big office building in Park Row, where he has his room in a dark corner, his name does not appear upon the directory. Neither is there any trace of it on the ground glass of the entrance door to the suite. Orlando Harriman himself is a thin, dark, cadaverous man of the height and build of his celebrated brother. Indeed, he resembles to a marked degree the Edward Harriman who used to figure so largely in the world's news.

Is Heaping Up Fortune.

Although very well-to-do, Orlando does not seem to have had the superhuman knack of piling up millions which his brother possessed. Yet down at Brighton Beach Orlando Harriman is now heaping up a fortune in alleys, dimes, quarters and half dollars out of the amusement enterprises which he controls as the guiding spirit of the Brighton Beach Development company. He is a showman and a master of show, and it is estimated he will make $500,000 clear profit on his enterprises this summer.

One of them is a big dancing pavilion, which differs from all the rest at Coney Island in that an admission fee is charged and no intoxicating liquors sold. The admission fee is only a nickel, but that is quite enough to go a long way toward bringing up the "tone" of the place to the Harriman standard of cleanliness and respectability. An additional charge is made for those who wish to dance, and, all in all, it brings in quite a pretty penny in the way of revenue.

Also Has Golden Touch.

Just as infallibly as the golden touch was E. H. Harriman's when he headed the great railroad systems of America, so also is the golden touch of Brother Orlando. Nowhere along the Atlantic Coast has there been a more successful amusement season than in the buildings and along the seashore avenues that this new Harriman controls. At his bathhouse alone—the Brighton Baths—he took in $11,000 Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10.

Orlando Harriman has his office in this bath building, and into his coffers there flows a mighty stream of small coins. Every show and spectacle on his property, with the

Over 2,000 tows and cities in America, the leading druggist has the agency for ZEMO and he will tell you of the marvelous cures made by this clean, simple treatment. ZEMO is recognized as the cleanest and most popular treatment for eczema, pimples, dandruff and all other forms of skin or scalp affections whether on infant or grown person. Will you try a bottle on your recommendation? W. J. Gilbert's drug store.

CHAPTER X.
DE in a great measure to Kirby's and Adele's high spirits, which infected all but three members of the company, the dinner in honor of Colonel Moreau was an entire success and, in fact, could not have been surpassed had that unfortunate gentleman himself been present. Judge Pledell, believing that he was assisting to entertain one who by championing the cause of the landlords, while at the same time ridding the community of the notorious Cameo Kirby, had earned his last evening's esteem and gratitude, told his best stories in his happiest vein, and Miss Davezac, together with Ann Pledell, suffering under the same delusion, put forth every effort to charm, even going to the length of heartily applauding the judge's most venerable and moth-ravaged yarns.

No mean raconteur himself, Kirby ransacked his vast store of personal experience for interesting topics of conversation that would bear rehearsal in the present company, and even Adele, finally and unwillingly drawn into the small talk, carefully selected, as befitting a "secretary," the least innocuous of his many escapades and returned to confide it to the demure ear of his dinner partner, Miss Pledell. This heroic action of the old river gambler—for he was desperately embarrassed at the honor shown him and thoroughly cognizant what must be the inevitable and tragic ending of his partner's reckless action—was sufficient testimony to the fact that the preoccupied manner of M. Veaudry, coupled with Mr. Randall's grave silence and studied courtesy toward Kirby, had no effect upon the spirits of the company, if, indeed, their demeanor was even noted by the majority.

Before entering the house the two gentlemen in question had come to an understanding regarding the status of their guest, concurring in the opinion that he was impersonating the gentleman in whose honor the dinner had been planned. But Aaron alone had found a sinister significance in the General's observation to the effect that Kirby wore a quantity of cameos, and, although he lacked authentic evidence upon which to erect his suspicions, while likewise granting that it was an amazing and unbelievable action for one to deliberately walk into the house of his enemies, he vaguely sensed that the pseudo Colonel Moreau was none other than the notorious Eugene Kirby.

Still, Aaron Randall was a strictly just and upright man, who was fully aware of the many crimes committed in the name of circumstantial evidence. Slow to pronounce judgment, he was quick to act when once assured that in no sense would justice be violated. Moreover, Adele, in whose integrity and force of character he had the firmest belief and for whom he had the highest regard and proof of whose acumen he had had ample testimony, vouched for the imposture and even confessed complicity if not actual initiative in the same. In the absence of Tom Randall she was absolute mistress, with the right to act as she deemed fit, and had, moreover, exacted his word of honor that he would trust her until the arrival of her brother. Even had he been satisfied with the truth of his conjectures regarding Kirby's identity this promise to Adele would have pledged Aaron to secrecy, and M. Veaudry, being subsequently acquainted with the compact, likewise agreed that it could not be violated.

For the young couple this passive role was extremely difficult, and it was eloquent proof of his self-command and personal integrity, coupled with those refined instincts bestowed by gentle birth and breeding, that he considered Aaron's promise equally binding upon himself and, repressing all promptings of jealousy, refrained from denouncing Kirby as an impostor. The successful suit of an honorable rival would have been difficult enough to recognize, but this encroachment of a stranger who at the best was a masquerader if not a character more sinister and disreputable was intolerable, for M. Veaudry had gathered from Mr. Randall's manner that he suspected their guest of being guilty of something more criminal than assuming a name to which he had no right.

Thus, even while the young couple and Aaron prayed that Tom Randall's arrival would be hastened and coincident with it free vent could be given to their suspicions, Larkin Bunce earnestly hoped to the contrary—hoped that Kirby would suddenly realize his danger, growing the more deadly and certain as every minute passed, and would ride for the river before the coming of Nemesis.

But evidently nothing was more remote from that reckless young gentleman's intention, for, mindful of his partner's increasing uneasiness and that both were the object of watchful, hostile eyes, he continued to act as if time and opportunity had been created solely for Adele and himself. Dinner finally at an end, he and his young hostess, entirely absorbed in each other's society, sought the drawing room balcony, while the others, with the exception of Bunce, indulged in a game of piquet. M. Veaudry, proving a wretched partner, his entire attention being occupied with the couple on the balcony.

M. Veaudry, owing to his preoccupation, proving such a thankless partner, Miss Davezac at last turned to Bunce and suggested that he and Kirby join the game in lieu of the young couple and the judge.

"Oh, truly, Anatole," she added, with some asperity, tapping the other's arm with her fan, "you cannot keep your mind on the game, and so we are unable to play. Will you surrender your place to Colonel Moreau?"

"It seems to me that I have already done that," he responded gloomily.

With as good grace as possible yielding to the dictates of courtesy, Kirby unwillingly terminated his tete-a-tete with Adele, and as he approached the card table his place was promptly preempted by the young couple, who followed Miss Randall to the balcony.

It was the first time he had been alone with Adele, and his long repressed emotion and bitterness found vent. "Ah, ma chérie, it is true," he said reproachfully. "You are changed—so quickly. Yes, you will say I wanted to see you happier, but I also had wished to be the one to make you so. Adele," he added earnestly, striving to take her hand, "if this difference in you comes only from the gratitude you feel to—Colonel Moreau because he tried to protect your father I shall be happy. But how have this man bewitched you that?"

"I don't understand you, Anatole," she said quietly, drawing away.

"I think I do not understand you, Adele. I think you know from the first he is not Colonel Moreau. I have some very strange suspicion of him."

Instantly the woman in her was up in arms, seeking to defend, eager to do battle for the object it sought to shield. "It is enough that I know he is a man who has had a great wrong done him. That's one way of making a woman believe that you love her—when she's trying to help some one in trouble, make it harder for her—be jealous," she finished, with a bitter laugh.

"I am jealous—I do not deny that. But I am, first of all things, a man of honor," he said quietly enough, although white with anger. His voice trembled with emotion as he added, with simple dignity: "Do you think a man of honor has suspicion of a rival only because he is jealous? Do you think I would suspect him only for that?"

"I can't discuss it with you," she returned coldly. Leaning on the balcony railing, she promptly became absorbed in the wonders of the night. Recognizing the sign of dismissal, he yet hesitated, miserably conscious that he had offended, but still feeling justified in the position he had assumed, still holding that those emotions which had prompted his words were but natural, impersonal and sincere. It was his right to protect the girl he loved from the will of a nameless adventurer, of whose integrity he had the gravest doubts. It was his right to protect her from herself, for, deny it as she might, it was all too bitterly apparent that this debonaire impostor had succeeded where others had failed and that Adele had discarded all sorrow with her mourning and was yielding to a fascination that he firmly believed would prove her ruin.

While he still hesitated, afraid to make an enemy of the girl he loved, yet stubborn in his resolution to thwart Kirby, Aaron Randall, suspecting some such controversy as had taken place, joined them on the balcony, and Anatole, with evident relief, turned again to Adele.

"Mademoiselle, here is your cousin."

He will not be thought to be jealous," he said gravely. "I ask him to tell you what he will not tell me. I ask him to tell you what he thinks about this gentleman."

"Cousin Aaron," replied the girl, turning and confronting the two from whom she had most to fear, "in my brother's absence you respect my authority here, do you not? Very well, then. My introduction of this gentleman as Colonel Moreau is enough for you."

"It must be, Cousin Adele," replied Aaron, evidently greatly perplexed and troubled.

"And I am responsible for my actions only to my brother," added the girl, looking directly at M. Veaudry.

He flushed under the scrutiny of her eyes and the significant intonation of her voice.

"In his absence I would protect you. I would act for him," he protested desperately.

"You may when you have his authority. Until then I bid you adieu!" And, with an elaborate courtesy and pleasant smile, she vanished through the window, while the gentlemen remained on the balcony, a prey to the most disquieting thoughts.

"You see how she have change—in this one day—with him," bitterly exclaimed Anatole, pointing through the open window to where in a distant corner of the room Kirby sat at the card table. Mr. Randall merely nod-

NO CROP FAILURES IN NORTHWEST

WHEAT YIELD WILL BE 70 PER CENT OF LAST YEAR.

Financial Leaders Do Not See Panic or Hard Times Ahead for Country.

MONEY TO PAY MOVING GRAIN

Minneapolis, Minn., July 22.—The Northwestern farmer isn't going broke this year, whatever the wild wires may report of drouth, hot waves and crop failures, and however much the Chicago Board of Trade may shriek. He may be forced to take a reef in his 1909 bumper belt and do his own chauffering, but there's gasoline enough in sight to keep the motor buggy going.

The crops haven't failed. There's money enough to move them—and pay for them. The total yield will be smaller, but the old law of supply and demand, combined with an increased acreage, will help make up the difference.

Price to Be Higher.

Taken as a whole, the farmers of Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota will get a somewhat smaller crop. Mr. Ultimate Consumer will pay most of the freight this year, as usual, for flour and meat are going up—also as usual.

According to the men who finance and move the annual crop—the bankers—conditions in the three states are not as gloomy as they have been laquered. The hail didn't mash down all the wheat in South Dakota when it hit John Smith's 40-acre field up in Edmondson, and the hot breezes didn't cook all the life out of North Dakota when they struck Devil's Lake.

Not Bumper Year.

This is not a bumper year by any means, as predicted early in the season, and the total will fall much below 1909, but you may always figure that reports of bumper crops and failures are about equally exaggerated, according to President E. W. Decker, of the Northwestern National Bank here.

"We will have a fair crop this year, and money enough to move it," says President Decker. "Minnesota's crop is good. South Dakota's about 75 per cent, and North Dakota's 50 per cent. This is based on an average crop of 13 to 14 bushels to the acre. An extra good crop will help even up matters in North Dakota."

"Oats have suffered considerably everywhere, but corn is doing very well especially in lower Minnesota, where they raise a good deal more of it than is generally supposed, and use it for hog feeding."

May Lower Pork.

Maybe that will help some when it comes to pork chops.

Other bankers in Twin Cities have much the same reports from clients all over the three big grain states. West of the Red river valley the farmers are hardest hit, and the whole state of North Dakota seems to have suffered more than her Southern sister or Minnesota.

The tightening of the money market has made the bankers chary and cautious on loans for commercial or speculative purposes, even on extra good security, but they have no fears of handling the crop movement.

Rains Have Helped.

"Two weeks ago I was rather pessimistic about the crop," said President Bailey of the First National of St. Paul, "but since then the rains have helped and I have learned from many points that the reports of total failure are confined to isolated cases."

"It is true they are plowing wheat under in some localities, but that condition is not at all general. The straw is short, but the grain on top is said to be filling out well."

"Wheat for milling purposes will be higher this fall. I would not be surprised to see it go above $1.25, or even to $1.50."

That means a higher duty on the staff of life, wherein Mr. Consumer helps the farmer bear his loss.

ded and gloomily chewed his choker. He was facing a difficult problem and praying for the arrival of young Randall.

Presently from the music room there came the subdued harmony of a guitar and harp, and when the soft prelude had finished Adele's fine contralto took up the theme, singing, "I sent thee late a rose wreath, not so much honoring thee."

It was Kirby's favorite song, snatches of which Anatole had heard the other humming at intervals since his arrival. Clearer, sweeter, purer sounded the words until the music ascended like an anthem and came stealing out of the window to mingle with the soft murmur of the night, to blend with the unheard, far distant harmony of the stars. Anatole stood transfixed, a prey to the bitterest emotions to which man was ever hostage.

Apportioning Expense of New Sidewalks and Gutters in the West End.

For the purpose of passing the apportionment ordinance, assessing property owners along both sides of Main street between Monroe street and Trimble street for their part per front foot of the new contracted concrete sidewalks, curbs and gutters, the general council will meet at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight in adjourned session from Monday night. The work has been accepted by the board of public works and ratified by the general council. Contractors A. J. Miller & Son, of Lynchburg, Va., did the work.

A small amount of routine business will come before the board tonight. George Landwehr, colored, will apply for a saloon license at 516 Kentucky avenue, which was the old stand of George Allen, whose license was recently revoked for violations of the law.

FULTON REMAINS IN DRY COLUMN

VOTES AGAINST LICENSE BY A MAJORITY OF 18.

Honor Men Say They Will Contest the Election Held There Yesterday.

JOLLIFICATION LAST NIGHT.

Fulton, Ky., July 22 (Special).—Fulton will remain in the dry column after eight years in the town voted dry at the local option case on Tuesday by a vote of 311 to 294. The fight was a bitter one with the voters apparently shifting from side to side up to the time of the election. The colored vote was a factor. At the time the vote was counted, the men in charge of the dry campaign declared they will keep up the organization and nominate and elect a city ticket this fall in sympathy with prohibition. They have declared war on bootleggers and blind tigers. Mayor Fall, who announced his adherence to the prohibition cause at a mass meeting, and the next day was quoted in the Leader as being "well up" and was lined up with the drys yesterday and voted and worked on that side.
